

October 19, 2016

Media Contact:

John F. Lynch

Marketing Manager

E&I Consulting Group

jlynch@eandiconsulting.org

(631) 630-8203

E&I CONSULTING GROUP ACHIEVES CERTIFICATION IN SCIQUEST PARTNERSELECT PROGRAM

Certification includes in-depth source-to-settle platform training at multiple levels

JERICO, N.Y. – E&I Consulting Group is pleased to announce that several staff members have successfully completed certification in the SciQuest PartnerSelect Program. Certification in the SciQuest PartnerSelect Program is designed around three main roles or categories:

- Engagement Manager
- Technical Consultant
- Solutions Consultant

E&I Consulting Group staff members have attained certification in all three categories.

Certification in the SciQuest PartnerSelect Program provides unique skills and training to help partners and customers achieve the next level of efficiency across the entire procurement cycle. Certification includes in-depth source-to-settle platform training on the SciQuest Spend Director platform, including core product and process comprehension, best practices, and cross-product implementation skills.

“The SciQuest PartnerSelect Program is a great offering for SciQuest partners like E&I Consulting,” said Vince Patriarco, Executive Director at E&I Consulting Group. “We’re fully invested in our commitment to helping clients with the e-procurement selection process and we want them to have maximum success with their implementations. The PartnerSelect Program is structured and intuitive and has allowed us to train our staff, from Senior Consultants to Implementation Managers, Project Managers and beyond, in a common and consistent manner so that they are adept at delivering SciQuest solutions from a consultative, implementation, and technical perspective,” he continued. “We know that selecting the solution is very often the right thing, but how it’s implemented and rolled out to users is where the real success and return on investment is achieved. The training we’ve received positions us uniquely to help our client institutions in higher education.”

The SciQuest Partner ecosystem aims to deliver customer value beyond cost savings through shared innovation and a world-class source-to-settle solution. E&I Consulting is committed to SciQuest and the success of our shared client base. For more information on E&I Consulting and our Technology Optimization Service, please contact Vince Patriarco, Executive Director, at (607) 753-1473 or vpatriarco@eandiconsulting.org.

About E&I Consulting Group

E&I Consulting Group is a consulting and professional services firm focused on procurement optimization in the educational marketplace. Through a range of integrated services, we help schools and universities drive enterprise value across their entire supply chain – becoming more strategic so that they can accomplish more for less, drive down costs, and maximize operational efficiencies. Recent clients include Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute (RPI), Ithaca College, Northern Arizona University, San Diego State University, Rhode Island School of Design, California State University (CSU), the State University of New York (SUNY), and the University of Kansas. For more information, visit: www.eandiconsulting.org.

####