As a result of the conference call held on February 21, 2019 at 2:00 PM ET, the following question was raised and discussed.

1. A participant asked E&I to identify a “published List Price” for the “services” to be proposed in Suppliers responses. This question was raised from reading section 2.4, ‘Pricing’ on page 7 of the RFP document.

Answer: In Section 2.4, ‘Pricing’, on page 7 it states, “Product pricing, if products are being proposed, is to be based upon a specific published list price less a set discount.” E&I requires that suppliers propose pricing for any “products” that is based on a specific list price schedule less a set discount.

Service pricing will need to be proposed per job, day, square foot, etc. or as per the usual and customary method suppliers utilize for these services. E&I will evaluate the methods proposed and reserve the right to ask additional questions of the suppliers about their proposed pricing method.
