

Local Service, National Resources

Construction Management at Risk \(CMAR\) is CORE's specialty, and now E&I members have access to comprehensive professional construction management services through our new contract with CORE Construction, Inc.

With over 30 years in the industry, CORE has a strong foothold in the education market – in fact, their reputation and excellent service has earned them the ranking as one of the top education builders in the United States.

Contract Highlights:

- Clear, consistent communication including on-screen take off and opinion studies
- Budgetary efficiencies designed to deliver the best value
- Transparency throughout projects, from design to preconstruction and project completion

See for yourself why all work completed by CORE's subcontractors is top-notch and a testament to their quality service and commitment to customer satisfaction. Learn more and sign up today.

Questions

Please contact your E&I Member Relations Representative or David Ott, Portfolio Support Executive, Facilities.

This contract was the result of a competitive solicitation based on E&I RFP #683409