

Max-R is the leading supplier to Colleges and Universities for sustainable, high quality, customizable recycling solutions. They partner with organizations to help them achieve their waste and recycling goals while supporting their functional, design, and brand needs.

In addition to their waste and recycle bins, Max-R's sustainable outdoor furniture assists organizations to provide outdoor gathering spaces for students and visitors alike, while maintaining a coordinated look across campus. In addition, they recently rolled out a line of COVID-19 defense products to help students and essential employees return to campus safely and sustainably.

All of their offerings are made from the same post-consumer recycled plastic material, driving their mission to reclaim over 250 million milk jugs from landfill. Their customized solutions can be found at over 1,000 campuses nationwide, including Duke University, University of Wisconsin-Madison, Florida International University, and UC Berkeley
