SECURITY SOLUTIONS FOR EDUCATION

School security is a major concern for parents, teachers, administrators, and all other stakeholders. The unfortunate reality of today is that situations we could barely imagine just decades ago are happening with alarming regularity.

TODAY'S REALITIES OF SCHOOL SECURITY

School administrators today are charged with thinking well beyond education and learning, to the security and wellbeing of their students, teachers, and faculty. This means that while we want schools, colleges, and universities to be places of learning and enlightenment, we need to do everything in our power to make them safe and mitigate threats and risk. Security is not simply nice-to-have – it's a critical requirement!

HOW E&I CAN HELP

E&I's school security initiative helps institutions in higher education and K-12 fast-track their approach to school safety and security. Our portfolio features products and services from leading suppliers that can be combined proactively to secure your institution from threats, both physical and digital.

These products and services include alert systems, window and door locks, reinforced glass and entryways, ballistic barriers, biometric scanners, cameras, networking equipment, software and cloud solutions, radio equipment, trained security personnel, technology consulting services, as well as background checks and other things.

A major advantage of E&I's security portfolio is that all contracts have been awarded in a competitive solicitation process. So you're not just looking at price and cost savings – but time to market, and an ability to move fast to mitigate risk. That becomes critical when looking –to plan proactively, as well as when needing to respond to evolving threats, crises, or protocols.
