About the Position:

E&I Cooperative Services (E&I) is the only member-owned, non-profit procurement cooperative focused exclusively on higher education. We provide our members with unsurpassed value through a broad portfolio of competitively solicited contracts, technology-enabled procurement solutions, and strategic, consultative engagements. Our innovative strategic spend assessments empower members to make informed, analytics-based decisions to capture savings. We collaborate with our suppliers through a performance management program to consistently deliver an amazing member experience.

E&I has an exciting opportunity for three (3) Sr. Sourcing Consultants in our Member Engagement Department. One position in the Eastern, Central and Western regions. These positions will be responsible for developing, leading, and managing the consultative relationship between E&I and its members by communicating the overall value and competitive advantage of E&I as a strategic sourcing partner. This includes helping members understand how and where E&I can help them in support of their sourcing strategy, analyzing their spend to generate insights about where they can leverage E&I contracts to avoid cost, save time and resources, increase compliance, consolidate spend and manage more spend under contract. These positions will increase contract utilization, spend on contract, and improve the member experience by maximizing their education dollars. This will be accomplished by presenting member focused solutions utilizing data analytics, based on proven success in developing and deploying procurement strategies using strategic sourcing methodologies within higher education. These positions will work remotely based upon their region.

At E&I Cooperative Services, we are proud of the company culture we have created. We believe that talented people and the right culture are the most important drivers of our company's success and our employees' satisfaction. We are looking for people who share our core values – people who are: Mission Driven, Customer/Member "Obsessed", High Performers, Inclusive, Respectful, Positive, Collaborative, and who are Always Pursuing Better.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:

- Utilize procurement and strategic sourcing knowledge and experience to assess the sophistication of a member's procurement department.
- Consult with members on spend analytics, cost savings metrics, supplier consolidation, contract compliance and supply chain efficiencies, and how E&I can support the member in their procurement strategy.
- Achieve annual business plan through selling the benefits of various member product and service offerings resulting in increased volume of purchasing in existing/new accounts and expanding the number and volume of contracts utilized within an assigned territory.
- Strategically and tactically consult with targeted members on the value and benefits E&I's professional procurement knowledge and member-focused solutions add to their existing procurement and strategic sourcing strategies.
- Secure meetings with key decision makers on campus specifically focused on introducing E&I's data driven engagement model.
- Collaboratively partner with analytics team to develop comprehensive member-specific reports to align the members' spend to the E&I portfolio and roadmap to maximize members' education dollars.
- Clearly articulate the findings of the member specific report and ask solution-based questions to develop sales opportunities at member meetings.
- Utilize analytical reports to identify opportunities and gaps within the members' spend and recommend E&I solutions that bring value to members.e on a timely/ongoing basis.
- Apply solid procurement knowledge and understanding of E&I contract portfolio, product, and service offerings to be a trusted advisor to the membership.

- Continuously utilize business sales reports and tools to properly manage the assigned territory against monthly and annual sales goals.
- Prioritize and effectively plan travel schedule to manage touchpoints in assigned territory.
- Build relationships with local business partners and dealer representatives to develop strategies for individual members that increase contract utilization.
- Continuously provide feedback and ideas across multiple business units to improve the member experience and share new product or service opportunities.
- Promote and represent E&I at association conferences, on-campus supplier fairs, regional meetings as assigned.
- Enter/update/manage all activity and contacts in the Salesforce database on a timely/ongoing basis.
- Monitor personal business plan expenses, such as travel and office supplies, to ensure that expenditures stay within assigned budgets. Submit weekly expense reports.
- Bring customer/member insights and knowledge about where we can systemically improve their experience back into the organization to inform internal stakeholders of key product and service improvement opportunities.
- Suggest and develop customer/member training and support materials.

Education and/or Experience:

- Minimum 10 years of progressive experience in leadership of procurement and strategic sourcing in higher education required
- Successfully developed and launched strategic procurement programs
- Ability to consult on the strategic sourcing process and its various methodologies
- Successful interaction and engagement with high level decision makers
- Ability to interpret and utilize data in the strategic sourcing process
- Skilled at building professional relationships that create an environment to influence decision makers
- Proficient in the use of business analysis tools to evaluate present and future performance metrics to identify areas of opportunity
- Excellent oral and written communication skills, interpersonal skills, and presentation skills
- Strong executive presence with the ability to remain confident and composed yet humble
