

Save Time & Money on Scientific Supplies

Get access to a comprehensive catalog of scientific supplies K-12 educators need most, including materials developed exclusively for science education from Ward's Science. A division of VWR, the Ward's Science catalog offering is available through E&I's competitively solicited contract with VWR.

From labware to chemistry, biotech, physics, earth science, lab and classroom furniture, and more, E&I's Sargent Welch contract makes it easy to find the science supplies you need most at the price and quantity that meets your school's unique needs.

Contract Highlights:

- Aggressive discounts on science supplies, with free shipping on many items
- Everything for your science lab from start to finish
- When you order through E&I, pricing is already pre-approved for your school, so there's no need to comparison shop.
- Premium-quality hands-on science supplies for every subject and grade level
- One-on-one support from in-house scientists and educators
- Time-saving resources and services to drive efficiencies

Ward's Science is a trusted brand and a key supplier in the world of K-12 scientific education.

Take advantage of this E&I contract and help drive cost savings and efficiencies around your school's entire scientific purchasing process.

From biology to geology and earth science, chemistry, physics, health science, forensics, lab equipment, and more, the E&I Wards Science contract makes it easy to find the science supplies you need. Best of all, source them at the price and quantity that meets your school's unique needs.
